DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claim 20 is removed from consideration as it constitutes a non-statutory “use” claim.

Hence only claims 1-19 are included in the following Restriction requirement.

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-2, drawn to methods for identifying and selecting a gene required fro the proliferation in vivo of a pathogenic microorganism.

Group II, claim(s) 3-4, drawn to mutant nucleic acids.

Group III, claim(s) 5-10 and 13, drawn to pathogenicity or virulence targets encoded by nucleic acids corresponding to the nucleotide sequence of SEQ ID NO:X.

Group IV, claim(s) 11-12, drawn to vectors and host cells.

Group V, claim(s) 14-15, drawn to isolated peptides with a sequence corresponding to SEQ ID NO:X.

Group VI, claim(s) 16, drawn to antibodies that bind to peptides with a sequence corresponding to SEQ ID NO:X.

Group VII, claim(s) 17, drawn to methods for inhibiting in vitro the proliferation of a pathogenic microorganism.

Group VIII, claim(s) 18, drawn to method for screening compounds capable of inhibiting the expression of peptides with the sequence corresponding to SEQ ID NO:X.

Group IX, claim(s) 19, drawn to method for screening compounds capable of inhibiting the biochemical and/or enzyme activity of peptides with the sequence corresponding to SEQ ID NO:X.

It should be noted that Groups III, V-VI and VIII-IX recite multiple sequences that constitute multiple patentably distinct entities. If any one of group III, V-VI and VIII-IX is elected, Applicant is required to select a single SEQ ID NO to be examined. This is not to be construed as a species election.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IX do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.475(d), the ISA/US considers that where multiple products and processes are claimed, the main invention shall consist of the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims and the first recited invention of each of the other categories related thereto. Accordingly, the main invention (Group 1) comprises the first recited product, nucleic acid sequences that regulates expression of polypeptides involved in autolytic processes in bacteria, vectors containing said nucleic acid sequences and host cells comprising said vectors. Further pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.475(d), the ISA/US considers that any feature which the subsequently recited products and methods share with the main invention does not constitute a special technical feature within the meaning of PCT rule 13.2 and that each of such products and methods accordingly defines a separate invention.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined.

See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
